1 Alexander Lotersztain's Freefold partition evokes the folded forms of origami. Perforations in the screen's surface cast intricate patterns of light. Contact Planex for details.

2 Rich natural hues characterize Corian's new Organics collection. The durable, non-porous solid surface is available in seven new shades that borrow from the Australian landscape's palette. Tumbleweed is shown here.

3 The simple Iki chair was designed by Christophe Pillet for Frag. Perfect for the home office, the chair's seat and backrest are finished in full-grain leather. It is available from Baseline and FY2K.

4 Slick aluminium curves create machine-age cool in this bathroom. The vanity, cabinet and mirror are all part of Altro's Aeri collection, designed by Italian design team Roviras and Torrente. Contact Paco Jaanson for more information.

5 Seven dramatic designs by artist Minnie Pwerle form Designer Rugs' newest range, the Atnwengerrp Collection. The range is characterized by defined brushstrokes and splashes of colour. This design is called Dance Lines.
