

Every basin a piece of art

BETH MUHLING

The soft curves and ultra-modern style of Paco Jaanson's new Ring 65 and Little basins will suit even the most understated bathroom.

Ring 65 comes with a tap landing, and Little comes without, so there's the option of incorporating a different style of bench or wall-mounted basin mixer.

These basins are the latest in the portfolio of Italian designer Maurizio Duranti, who, after a career in architecture, moved on to work in industrial design, creating striking bathware products.

His architectural background brings a sound knowledge of the possibilities of raw materials and his design philosophy is to treat every item as a piece of art.

Although known mostly for his affinity with angular designs, he's moved away from this trend with the curved Ring 65 and Little basins.

Both basins sell for $760. Call Paco Jaanson on 1800 006 260 or visit www.pacojaanson.com.au for stockists.
