

Shower heads steal the show

If you fancy yourself as a shower rock star, or you're known in the family as the bathroom baritone, the latest design in shower heads (pictured) from Nuova offer new possibilities.

Shaped like a microphone, the single-function Ellittico shower head has a thin, sleek profile to suit would-be vocalists, and a retro theme.

Elegant and innovative, the collection consists of four more pieces, including the single function Vega, Stilo and Saturnia, and the five-function Omega shower.

Made of chrome, the Ellittico's thin, sleek profile is reminiscent of the 1980s microphone, just right for capturing the mood of yesteryear in the bathroom.

Angular and bold, the Vega is a more chiseled, adding a modern edge. In contrast, the Stilo is beautifully curved.

For a more classic style, the Saturnia and Omega showers have a traditional circular head, with Omega offering five functions for those seeking a little more variation for their shower experience.

Whether selecting a single-function head-set, or five-function model, they all have a twist-free swivel connection hose as well as anti-calcinations.

Even if you can't carry a tune in a bucket, add a new shower head for a bathroom makeover and sing to your heart's content.

For more information go to www.pacojaanson.com.au

