

Stylish spouts

JUST when you think bathroom accessories cannot get any more beautiful and sophisticated Paco Jaanson introduces the most stunning and intriguing designs ever – and the inspiration is the humble spout.

Thanks to the skills of designers such as Antonio Miro and Maurizio Duranti your bathroom decor can now be absolutely captivating with a range of bath spouts which will turn the flow of water into an amazing sight.

Wall-mounted bath spouts are particularly complementary to bathroom interiors and are a feature in their own right. Sculptural and functional, they offer visual appeal and interpret a period of style.

Water flow can be altered with the shape of the spout, ranging from a fragile ribbon of water to a thick and fast flow that emulates the form of a waterfall.

Wall-mounted bath spouts are distributed nationally through Paco Jaanson.
