

New range good for the ego

The new Ego bathroom range marries strong, modern, angular design with the softness of sleek curves and fluid edges to produce a collection of versatile bathware that would suit both new and existing bathrooms. The range was created by Kerasan, the renowned Italian design group with more than 40 years experience, and includes toilet suites, bidets and a big variety of basins, all finished in flawless white. The pieces can be used as a three-piece set to great effect, or in isolation to seamlessly slot into an existing theme.

With prices starting at $480 for basins and $1200 for bidets, the Ego range will be available through Paco Jaanson from December.
