COLOUR'S MAKING A COMEBACK IN THE BATHROOM AND NOT JUST WITH ACCESSORIES AND TILES. FROM BOLD BRIGHTS TO LUSH PASTELS, DESIGNERS ARE BRINGING THE COLOUR.

THE TREND has been towards neutrals for decades now, but nothing lasts forever, and it's time to step out of the dull zone and start livening things up again. Coloured basins in particular are a happy alternative to traditional white vitreous china and create a highlight in any bathroom.

Pastels are big in Europe at the moment, with pale lavenders and minty greens that are fun but easy to incorporate into changing wall and tile palates. If you're bored stiff by the safe bathrooms you see in every display and magazine lately though, go for something braver...

It's time to add that splash of colour you've been hanging out for. Check out the Kong colour basin collection from Paco Jaanson.
