

Discrete fitting for full-body shower

■ Jessica Rule

Splash out on a deluxe full-body shower with Paco Jaanson's latest release, called Wallpaper. Designed by leading Italian bathroom company iB Rubinetterie, Wallpaper is a sleek and streamlined, concealed shower column.

The discrete fitting is built into the wall to efficiently save space in sophisticated bathrooms thanks to the simplicity of the visible integrated stainless-steel panel.

Wallpaper offers a range of settings for a luxurious shower experience, including thermostatic valves, three shower functions that can be used simultaneously and a lavish showerhead for the ultimate full-body shower.

The Wallpaper demonstrates the core values of iB Rubinetterie, including quality, functionality, design and ecological sustainability.

Combining striking design, space-saving savvy and a luxury shower experience, Wallpaper by iB Rubinetterie costs $3300.

It is distributed nationally by Paco Jaanson.
